MEDIA POLICIES

Steven Cusumano, Director, Digital Media and Public Relations, will be the contact for news media throughout the 2021 season. He will be available 24-hours a day at the following phone number (480) 455-0048 and email address scusumano@tucson sugarskulls.com. Media members may call, text or email at any time.

Services to be provided by media relations staff include issuing a weekly news release, issuing news releases on other news items, season and gameday statistics, news conferences, practice and press box operations, and credentials.

PRACTICES

The general practice schedule during the season is Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday approximately 9 a.m. Practices will be held at the Kino Sports Complex, 2500 E. Ajo Way.

Practices are open to the news media. Attending practice implies that news media members covering practice consent to the following:

- Information, including video, that would provide opponents with a strategic advantage such as formations, strategies, personnel shifts or injuries cannot be published, broadcast or posted on the internet or social media, including audible instructions from coaches during the course of practice.
- No information on injuries or absent players can be reported prior to the team issuing an injury report or specifically providing that information. A depth chart and injury report will be issued 48 hours prior to a given game.

News media will be required to stay in a designated area at practice

The head coach and players will be available for interviews after practice. The head coach will meet with the news media on the field immediately when practice ends. Players are available for interviews once the head coach completes his interview session. Media should contact a Sugar Skulls media relations representative at practice to request players to be interviewed.

CREDENTIALS

Credentials will be issued to professional members of media outlets that regularly cover the Tucson Sugar Skulls. All requests will be considered on a case-by-case basis. All credential requests must be submitted using the form provided by the Tucson Sugar Skulls. To request a form for your organization, contact Steven Cusumano at scusumano@tucson sugarskulls.com. Credential requests for a specific game must be received at least 48 hours prior to the game. Parking passes will be provided but may be limited.

A Sugar Skulls Credential Policy will be included when news media members receive their credentials. By accepting the credential, news media members consent to the Sugar Skulls Credential Policy.

GAMES

There is limited space in the press box at the Tucson Arena. Priority will be given to news media that covers the Sugar Skulls on a regular basis and news media that is working on deadline.

An overflow space for news media will be available if needed.

Photographers and videographers will have designated areas from where to shoot in the arena.

The Sugar Skulls locker room will be closed after games.

The head coach will be available for media interviews outside the locker room area after the game. News media who want to speak to specific players should make that request to media relations staff prior to the end of the game. We will make every reasonable effort to fulfill all requests for players. If you have any questions about any of these policies and guidelines, contact Steven Cusumano.

TUCSON ARENA

Tucson Arena at the Tucson Convention Center opened its doors November 12, 1971, with the Ice Capades. A few days later it hosted Ike and Tina Turner in concert. Over the years it been host to many large touring acts including: Elvis Presley, Kiss, The Rolling Stones, Jimmy Buffett, Eric Clapton and U2.

Tucson Convention Center is operated by SMG, the “gold standard” in public facility management. SMG has the programs, systems and talent in place to ensure that all SMG-managed facilities run smoothly and every event it hosts feels like a celebration.

Capacity for indoor football is 6,684.

FRONT OFFICE

Phil Sidoti,

General Manager of Business Operations

As the Sugar Skulls' GM of Business Operations, Phil Sidoti brings a wealth of experience to the team's sales and customer service operations. Originally from Long Island, New York, Phil graduated from Georgetown University with an Accounting Degree and attained the title of Certified Public Accountant (CPA) while working for KPMG, LLP.

Phil's lifelong love of sports stats and business eventually led him to the Tulsa Drillers, one of the most respected teams in Minor League Baseball. During his five years in Tulsa, Phil excelled in the team's Membership and Group Sales departments and climbed up the ranks from Ticket Sales Associate to Director of Inside Sales. After seeing the Sugar Skulls' strength and potential on the field, he has come to Tucson on a mission to improve and perfect the Sugar Skulls' fans off-the-field experiences into the most memorable and fun events of their lives.

Pat McCarthy, Director of Ticket Sales

Pat McCarthy is entering his first season as the Director of Ticket Sales for the Tucson Sugar Skulls. McCarthy previously worked in Marion, Illinois for the Southern Illinois Miners professional baseball team in a variety of different sales roles.

The Munster, Indiana native graduated from Indiana University-Bloomington with his Bachelor's degree in Sports Marketing and Management.

Steven Cusumano,

Director of Digital Media & Public Relations

Steven Cusumano is entering his first season as a member of the Tucson Sugar Skulls. Cusumano joins the Sugar Skulls after having spent the majority of his career working in professional baseball, serving in a variety of broadcasting, production and media relations roles for Minor League affiliates of the Houston Astros and Los Angeles Angels, as well as the Tampa Bay Rays and Chicago Cubs MLB clubs.

The Staten Island, New York native graduated from Arizona State University with his Bachelor's degree in Sports Journalism. During his junior and senior years at ASU, he also broadcasted play-by-play for Pac-12 Network's online streaming coverage of ASU Baseball and Softball events.

Abbey Rarick,

Director of Business Operations & Partnerships

Abbey Rarick is entering her first season as a member of the Tucson Sugar Skulls. Rarick joins the Sugar Skulls after having spent the majority of her career working in professional baseball in a variety of sales, marketing and event planning roles.

She established her sports career working in new business development for the Pittsburgh Pirates, before moving on to work for the Seattle Mariners in marketing and events for three years. After taking her experience outside of the sports world, she produced large-scale events in San Francisco and Dallas and now has returned to her passion in sports.

The Holt, Michigan native earned her Bachelor's degree in marketing from Grand Valley State University, with a minor in advertising and public relations. As a member of the Sugar Skulls, Rarick oversees the execution and fulfillment of corporate partnerships, business/team operations and gameday events.

FOOTBALL STAFF

Franky Lopez, Equipment Manager

Franky Lopez returns to the Sugar Skulls for his second season with the team, after working as a football operations/equipment intern during the team's inaugural 2019 season.

Lopez also previously worked as an equipment manager for USA Football in Arlington, Texas during 2019.

A native of Nogales, Arizona, Lopez graduated from Nogales High School.

Zach Eidschink, Equipment Manager, Sales

Zach Eidschink returns to the Sugar Skulls for his second season with the team, after working as a team operations and sales intern during the team's inaugural 2019 season.

Eidschink was born and raised in Tucson, where graduated from Canyon Del Oro High School and is currently attending Pima Community College.

In his current role, Eidschink works as both an account executive for the Sugar Skulls' sales team, while also splitting his time as an equipment manager.

Kaylee Goettel, Head Trainer

Kaylee Goettel, a Tucson-born certified athletic trainer, will be the head athletic trainer for the Tucson Sugar Skulls.

Goettel is a Tucson native who went to University High School. Goettel graduated from Northern Arizona University with a degree in athletic training while working with the football, women's soccer, and track and field teams. During her time at NAU, she also worked with Salpointe Catholic High School. After earning her license and certification in 2016 she began working at Empire High School as a trainer.

After working at Empire for four years, she began working with Arizona Sports Care in conjunction with the Tucson Sugar Skulls.

COACHING STAFF

Dixie Wooten

Dixie Wooten, a two-time Indoor Football League Coach of the Year and winner of the 2018 IFL championship, is head coach and general manager of the Sugar Skulls.

“Dixie is a proven championship coach and we are extremely fortunate to have the opportunity to bring him to Tucson,” said Sugar Skulls Owner Cathy Guy.

Wooten had a 36-8 regular season record in three seasons as head coach of the Iowa Barnstormers. His teams reached the playoffs all three years, winning the 2018 United Bowl championship. It was the first league championship in Barnstormers franchise history. Wooten was named IFL Coach of the Year in the 2017 and 2018 seasons.

The Barnstormers finished the 2019 regular season in second place in the IFL with a 12-2 record but were defeated by the eventual league champion Sioux Falls Storm in the semifinals of the IFL playoffs. Iowa defeated the Sugar

Skulls, 61-58, on a last-minute touchdown in the teams’ only meeting in 2019 at the Tucson Arena.

“I’m excited for the opportunity to be the new head coach and general manager of the Tucson Sugar Skulls,” Wooten said. “After only one year, this is one of the premier organizations in the IFL with what we have in place in ownership, the front office and the football operation. We will compete for a championship this year.”

The Sugar Skulls finished the 2019 regular season with a 7-7 record and were the first expansion franchise to make the playoffs in IFL history. Tucson clinched the playoff berth with a thrilling 55-50 victory over the Quad City Steamwheelers in the last game of the regular season at Tucson Arena. The Sugar Skulls lost to Sioux Falls, 50-47, in the first round of the playoffs.

“While we were all ecstatic to make the playoffs in our first year, our goal every year is to win a championship,” Guy said. “Dixie’s experience as a head coach and his history as a winner give us a chance to compete for a championship right now.”

Wooten’s coaching career spans back to 2005, having spent six years in a variety of capacities at the high school level, before begin his indoor football coaching career.

The Houston, Texas native is a graduate of the University of Phoenix with his Bachelor of Arts in Business Communication, by way of Cisco Junior College (Cisco, Texas) and Sterling High School (Houston, Texas).

Dixie and his wife, Laviska, have three children: daughters Tiara Collier, Tania Collier and son Dixie Wooten III.

Al Alexander Assistant Head Coach, Offensive Line Coach

Al Alexander, the former assistant head coach of Salpointe High School, is in his first year as the assistant head coach and offensive line coach for the Tucson Sugar Skulls.

Alexander grew up in Los Angeles, California and went to LA Southwest College before briefly transferring to UNLV and then Western New Mexico, where he graduated. He worked as a graduate assistant and offensive line coach for a year each at Western New Mexico after graduating.

In 2003, Alexander moved to Tucson and joined the coaching staff at Salpointe Catholic High School, an Arizona high school football powerhouse. Coaching at Salpointe until 2019, he served as the assistant head coach for 10 years of his tenure, as well as an offensive line coach. He now serves as the offensive line coach at Mica Mountain High School, in addition to owning an auto detail shop in Tucson.

COACHING STAFF

Xzavie Jackson Defensive Coordinator, Defensive Line Coach

Xzavie Jackson, a former four-time All-IFL First Team defensive lineman and all-time IFL sack leader with 81.5 sacks, is the defensive coordinator and defensive line coach for the Tucson Sugar Skulls.

Playing high school football in Wichita, Kansas before going to Missouri for college football. He went undrafted in the 2007 NFL Draft before spending time with both the Cincinnati Bengals and the Philadelphia Eagles.

Jackson played in the IFL beginning in 2009 with the River City Rage. After a single season, Jackson headed to the La Crosse Spartans where he won the first of his four All-IFL

First Team awards after placing fourth in the league in sacks.

Following the 2011 season, Jackson signed with the Cedar Rapids, where he earned the other three of his All-IFL First Team awards and assisted the Titans in making several conference championship games. He finished his playing career with the Nebraska Danger in the 2018 season, earning a second team All-IFL honor.

After retiring, Jackson moved into a coaching role for the Nebraska Danger in the 2019 season as a defensive line coach and a special teams coordinator. He helped the Danger reach the semifinals in the playoffs before they fell 45-62 to the Arizona Rattlers.

Anquanius Frazier Special Teams Coordinator, Defensive Backs Coach

Anquanius Frazier, a former IFL defensive back, is the special team's coordinator and defensive backs coach of the Sugar Skulls.

Frazier began his college career at Tyler Junior College, where in his 2006 season he finished third in the conference with four interceptions. He transferred to East Texas Baptist for two seasons, racking up 54 total tackles, 10 pass break-ups, and 7 interceptions in his tenure. He was named to the second team All-American Southwest Conference in his junior year. Frazier also returned a kick-off for a 62-yard touchdown in his senior season.

Anquanius played in the IFL for four seasons and in his 2014 season with the Texas Revolution, he put up big numbers with 69 tackles, two interceptions, two forced fumbles and 3 fumble recoveries.

Frazier began his coaching career with head coach Dixie Wooten on the Bemedji Axemen as the defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach. He reunites with Wooten on the Sugar Skulls for the 2021 season.

Glenn Howell Strength & Conditioning Coach

Glenn Howell is responsible for the Tucson Sugar Skulls strength and conditioning program.

In addition to being a strength and conditioning coach for a number of teams in Tucson, he has owned his own business, Howell Athletics, specializing in the field.

Howell is known in Tucson as a two-year starter at tight end for the Arizona Wildcats. He was an honorable mention All-Pac-10 selection in 1985, and was named the "Best Conditioned Athlete" by the team the same year.

He earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Arizona in interdisciplinary studies with an emphasis on sociology and psychology. He has 24 years of experience as a sports strength and conditioning specialist.

He most recently was the strength and conditioning coach for the University of Arizona Rugby team and the Pima Community College football team.

PLAYERS

1 RYAN BALENTINE

Wide Receiver 6'1" 180

Hometown: Killeen, TX

College: University of Southern Mississippi

Ryan Balentine joins the Tucson Sugar Skulls for his first season with the team; his eighth total season in the IFL. Balentine most recently played for the Iowa Barnstormers from 2017-2019. As a member of the Barnstormers under current Sugar Skulls Head Coach Dixie Wooten, Balentine earned first-team All-IFL honors in 2019, one season after being named the 2018 United Bowl MVP for the IFL Champion Barnstormers.
